Official Opening

"Fly-in" Planned For Vulcan Airstrip, Sunday

Members of the Vulcan Flying Club will be hosts to many southern members of the Flying Farmers of Alberta on Sunday, June 4, to celebrate the official opening of the Vulcan Airstrip.

A possible 150 people travelling in 40 to 50 planes are expected if the weatherman co-operates and entertainment for the visitors will consist of a golf tournament, swimming, a farm machinery display in a field adjacent to the airstrip and a buffet supper in the Lodge Hall. There will also be a demonstration of field spraying by Aviation Farming Ltd.

The airstrip, which is now seeded to grass, is 300 feet wide and 2500 feet long. A small hut has been moved to the site to provide weather shelter and a wind sock installed to give wind direction.

A new class of 12 students is now receiving instruction, with a plane and instructor from the Lethbridge Flying Club staying in Vulcan for this purpose.

ATHLETICS SUPERVISOR

John R. Meakins, has been named supervisor of the newly established Athletics and Outdoor Recreation Division of the Alberta Recreation and Cultural Development Branch. A native Edmontonian, Mr. Meakins is well known as a former member of the Calgary Stampeder Football Club and as a player-assistant coach in United States college football.

In the role of supervisor of the Athletics and Outdoor Education Division of the Branch, Mr. Meakins will be concentrating on promoting athletic clinics throughout the province on a wider scale than was previously possible. Track, field and similar sports will be emphasized more than the established sports which are self operating. Recreational activities of interest to all ages and occupations will be the main theme of the widespread program.

Services Held For William McLeod

Rites for William M. (Bill) McLeod, who passed away suddenly at his home in Brooks, Tuesday, May 23, were held on Friday, May 26, at 2:00 p.m., in Martin Brothers Funeral Home in Lethbridge, with Rev. McKelvey officiating. Interment took place in the family plot in Archmount Memorial Gardens, Lethbridge.

John McCall of Lethbridge played, "The Road to the Isle," on the bagpipes as they moved forward to the grave. Following the graveside service, he played, "The Last Lament," both favorites of the deceased.

Mr. McLeod was born in Summerset, Prince Edward Island in 1884 and came to Lethbridge in 1911. He married Olivia Johnson in 1917. He came to the Carman-gay district in 1912 and moved into town later where he was a member of the village council in 1931 to 1934. In 1945 the family moved to Travers and to Lomond in 1950. They moved to Brooks in 1958 where he operated a feed lot business 'till the time of his passing.

Mr. McLeod was a contractor as well as a sander. One of his first jobs was hauling cement for the Bow River irrigation system at Carlsland in 1911. Highways to Macleod and Waterton Lakes, also highway 23 were under contract to him. At that time most of the work was done by horses for the power on the machines used.

During the time he lived in Carman-gay he was active with the Carman-gay Stampede.

Funeral services were held in Martin Bros. Chapel with the Rev. James McKelvey of the Presbyterian Church officiating. Hymns sung during the service were, "Shall We Gather At the River," and "The Old Rugged Cross." Interment was at Archmount Memorial Park, Lethbridge.

Pall-bearers were Russell, Lloyd, Melville and Donald McLeod and Donald Hagen and Richard Myers. Mr. McLeod is survived by his wife, Olive of Brooks; four sons, Russell of Travers; Melville of Carman-gay; Lloyd of Westward Ho and Donald of Castor, Alta.; two daughters, Mrs. Donald (Jean) Hagen of Lethbridge and Mrs. Richard (Eileen) Myers of Vulcan; two brothers, Murdoch of Summerside, P.E.I., and Campbell of Summerside, P.E.I.; one sister, Mrs. Jane Morrison of Boston, Mass.; 15 grandchildren. A granddaughter predeceased him in 1946.

GARAGE SERVICE

Open on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and until 6 p.m. each day this coming week, including Saturday.

Central Garage

A newly designed Alberta Government float will be available for participation in fairs, sports day and other celebration parades held in Alberta communities during the summer.

The float is a successor to the previous display that visited 24 Alberta communities during the past year in response to 51 requests for participation. Difficulties of weather, transportation and conflicting dates made it impossible for that display to visit all points requesting its attendance. It made its first appearance at Delburne May 4 and its last appearance at the Dunvegan Bridge opening ceremonies Aug. 31.

The new float features the "Buy Alberta" motif and displays prominently the floral emblem of the province, the wild rose, and the official Alberta crest at either end of the display. Between two central panels illustrating the industrial and the agricultural aspect of the provincial economy is a stylized version of the wild rose, being used as symbol of the "Buy Alberta" campaign.

Communities wishing to have the float included in their programs during the coming summer should write Director of Advertising, Department of Industry and Development, Legislative Building, Edmonton. Requests will be considered in the sequence of receipt.

Elks Start Baseball Season With Two Wins

A double header at Granum opened the new season for Vulcan Elks of the southern "Big Six" league Sunday and the Elks jumped into a good start with two wins.

The first game ended 6-4 while the evening return was a run-away affair with the Elks scoring 22 runs against three for Granum.

In the afternoon game Vulcan used Rick Steadman of Lethbridge as pitcher to Fred Burley who received behind the plate. Each club scored a run in the first inning and the same in the sixth. The Vulcan outburst of four runs in the final inning was too much for the home club who came back with only two of their own to lose trailing by two runs.

Michael Jantzie pitched the evening game for the Elks and made his first start of the season a good one, taking out five batters on five pitched balls at one point in the game. Granum led 2-1 in the first inning but were snowed under by five, six and seven run innings as the game progressed.

Veteran utility man Dick Hawk of the presently defunct Nanton club has thrown his lot in with Vulcan and is a valued addition to this year's lineup, filling in at short-stop.

An exhibition game against Mossleigh is planned for Wednesday, June 7, at Vulcan while the next home league game will be against Champion on Sunday, June 11. Season tickets with games running on Sunday, are available from any of the Elks players.

Vulcan lineup:—Steadman, Burley, Gatenby, Shumaker, Jantzie, Hawk, Jordan, Sjogren, Mitchell, Deal, Degenstein, Holton.

Following is the complete schedule for the "Big Six" season:

June 4—Champion at Warner, Granum at Coaldale.

June 11—Champion at Vulcan, Warner at Coaldale.

June 18—Warner at Granum, Coaldale at Vulcan.

June 25—Granum at Champion, Vulcan at Warner.

July 2—Champion at Coaldale, Granum at Vulcan.

July 9—Warner at Champion, Coaldale at Granum.

July 16—Vulcan at Champion, Coaldale at Warner.

July 23—Granum at Warner, Vulcan at Coaldale.

July 30—Champion at Granum, Warner at Vulcan.

Closed Until July

Plant Trout At McNiven Slough

Through the efforts of Vulcan Fish & Game president, Bill Holton and Game Officer Bert Freeman, young folk in the district will get a good opportunity for pot-hole fishing this summer with better than a 50-50 chance on success — at least they'll know there are fish to be caught.

On Thursday, May 25, through provincial government services, a tank truck placed 1,020 yearling rainbow trout in a small lake on the Dan McNiven property north of highway 23 and 2,600 more were run into the Ole Ueland Lake.

The trout average about six inches in length and weight is calculated 10 fish to the pound. They were raised in hatcheries in Calgary, wintered at Olds and were brought by truck to Calgary the night before placing them here. Oxygen was pumped into the water of the tank and the fish were poured into the lakes through the three-inch hose which emptied the tank. Water temperature in the tank was 50 degrees while the lake was 60 degrees.

Only one trout appeared worse for wear, the majority streaked all over the two and a half acre lake at McNiven's, quickly clearing the surface for their first meal.

Fishing will not be allowed 'till July on McNiven's water in order that the trout may grow to a decent size. It is expected they will double their size in the next month and it is emphasized this is a put-and-take deal with the water to be fished out by winter.

The pot-hole at McNiven's was the closest suitable water to town and the Vulcan Fish & Game Association is hopeful of setting aside one day early in July when transportation will be available to the fishing hole to all youngsters interested.

FEROCIOUS FISH AT CALGARY AQUARIUM

"Never turn your back on your brother."

That, according to Elmer Taylor, curator of the Calgary Aquarium, is the philosophy of one of the world's most ferocious small fish, the eight-inch-long South American piranha.

At least 20 species of piranha — all of them flesh eaters and some who consider man's flesh as tasty as any other — are native to the waters of the world's largest river, the Amazon, which flows through the jungle-like rain forests of South America.

A single specimen of one species is currently on display at the Calgary Aquarium, located on the grounds of the Calgary Brewery at 9th Ave. and 15th St. S.E., and Curator Taylor and his assistants take no chances with him. "He has bitten through every net we have placed him in," Mr. Taylor says, "and whenever we move him from the tank we have to support the net with a heavy wire screen."

Ten piranhas are now being reared together by an aquarist in Toronto and will be sent to the Calgary Aquarium when they reach maturity. "According to the theories, these ten should be compatible — not with our present specimen — but at least with each other," Mr. Taylor said.

It's unlikely, however, that they will ever trust each other. "The philosophy of the piranha is 'never turn your back on your brother,'" Mr. Taylor said. "When they're in the tank together you can see them watching each other . . . their eyes appear to follow each movement of the other fish . . . you can almost see the expression of doubt on their faces and the flushed color which often signifies that they can be provoked very easily by their companions."

When that happens, the piranhas tear at each other with their razor-sharp teeth. The damage is less than might be expected: fins and tails of the piranha have remarkable regenerative power and after the battle soon grow back as good as new.

Heavy Downpour at Milo

Showers, Cloudbursts And Hail This Week

Late Monday afternoon brought light to heavy showers over many parts of the county. Precipitation ranged from about two-tenths of an inch at Kirkcaldy to over two inches just east of Milo, where a cloudburst was accompanied by large-sized hail.

In the Milo storm, the rain descended so rapidly that gullies were formed in many fields and seed washed out on side hills. Water rose above the fence posts in coulees carrying off the downpour and at least one stock-watering dam was washed out. Some re-seeding will likely be necessary in the area east of Milo.

At Champion there was also a heavy downpour accompanied by hail. At Vulcan, four-tenths of an inch of precipitation fell in about one hour, with further light showers during the night and on Tuesday. The district west of Vulcan is reported to have received about an inch of rain, with water showing in the fields and many sloughs holding water for the first time this year.

Lightning hitting both north and south power lines at about 6:00 p.m. caused a power failure for about one hour.

Seeding in the county area is considered to be completed, although there may still be a little flax to be put in. Growing conditions are excellent at the present time.

New Fire Truck On Its Way

The Vulcan Rural Fire Protection Co-op's big new $9,000 fire truck is expected to arrive in Vulcan this week. Lawrence Orchard left early this week by air for Woodstock, Ont., where the fire-fighting unit has been built on a new three-ton Dodge chassis at the King-Seagrave fire equipment plant, and will drive the new truck back to Vulcan.

While the new fire fighting unit was being built, a Civil Defence pumper truck has been stationed at Vulcan as an auxiliary truck and has been used two or three times to respond to farm fires.

The Rural Fire Protection Co-op now has 210 members.

Champion Takes Two From Coaldale In Big Six Ball

In a scheduled double-header at Champion on May 28, Champion took advantage of wild Coaldale pitching to chalk up two Big Six Baseball League wins, topping the visitors 6-5 and 15-2.

Roger Jensen was the winner over Ev Nowlin in the first game as Sev Pasoli tripled home the tying run and scored the winner on an infield out in the bottom of the ninth inning.

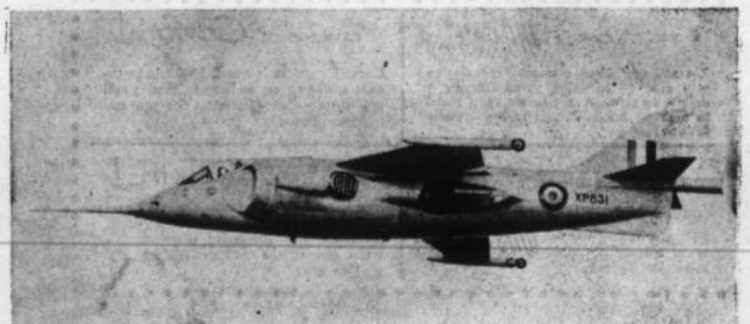

Champion had only three hits in the opener and Coaldale nine, but hurlers Murray Mills and Nowlin walked 10 batters. Five of the walks came in the sixth inning when Champion scored four runs.

Ten more Champion batters were walked in the nightcap, and another two were hit by pitches. Dusty Rhodes was the winner over Ed Wiebe, the first of four Coaldale chucks.

by Bud Haverly of Vulcan with high hidden hole to D. Stevens of Crossfield.

Most number of threes on 18 holes was won by Bill Leflar of Stately while Bruce McKay of Vulcan came through with the most number of sixes. The ladies of Royal Purple put on a lovely banquet in the evening to wind up a gala day for the Elks of District No. 4.

The slogan around the Vulcan Golf Course next Sunday, June 4, will be "Birds Beware," when the local branch of the Flying Farmers expect to have the morning air filled with airplanes bringing in other members of the organization from all parts of Alberta to a get-together at the local golf club. Then in the early afternoon they hope to fill the air with golf balls before departing for home later in the day.

normal take-off and was tested in the air under normal flight conditions.

Previously, this revolutionary aircraft had made tethered and free hovering flights.

The P.1127 uses a single lift-thrust engine — the Bristol Siddeley BS53 — for both vertical take-off and forward flight. This is achieved by using four swivelling nozzles to direct the thrust downwards and then gradually turn the jet thrust to the rear for forward flight.

Herronton Bride Wed At Calgary's Scarboro United

White satin bows marked the pews of Scarboro United Church, Calgary and baskets of pastel colored gladioli and fern decorated the altar for the marriage on May 20, of Miss Katherine Tarasoff, R.N., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tarasoff of Herronton, to Louis J. Bluekens, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bluekens of Lethbridge. The Rev. Wing officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

To the strains of "The Wedding March" the radiant bride, escorted to the altar by her father, chose a white gown of acetate lace and nylon net with floor-length bou-fant skirt of double nylon net, with dainty lace panels on front and back sides. The bodice top of lace featured simulated pearls and lily-point sleeves. She wore a chapel length veil, held in place by a pearl and sequin tiara crown, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red sweet-heart roses with white satin ribbons.

Her bridal attendants, maid of honor, her sister, Miss Elaine Tarasoff of Champion and Miss Mary Orban of Victoria, B.C., wore identical afternoon frocks of coral satin brocade sheaths with coral organza cumberbunds and white accessories. Their headpieces were of white daisies.

Ken Christianson of Lethbridge was the groom's best man and the guests were ushered by Ronald Degaut of Calgary and the bride's brother, Sam Tarasoff of Herronton.

Soloist for the wedding was Reuban Hamm.

For the occasion the bride's mother chose an ensemble of dress and trotter length duster in pale olive shade with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a beige two-piece outfit with tan accessories and white carnation corsage.

The reception was held in the Highland Golf and Country Club. Nick Tarasoff, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast in her honor to which the groom replied. Ken Christianson, read the telegrams and phone messages from Victoria, Los Angeles and Penticton.

The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake on pedestals. It was encircled by flowers and tall white tapers. Following the reception dancing was enjoyed by the 100 guests.

For a two-week wedding trip to points west, the bride changed to a beige suit with tan accessories. She wore a pale pink carnation corsage. Upon their return the happy young couple will reside in Lethbridge.

A New Publication of Wild Oat Control

Are you planning to sow wheat, barley, flax or sugar beets on land which you know is infested with wild oats? If so read all about Avadex and Carbyne in the publication entitled "Chemical Control of Wild Oats". Last year's experiences showed that these chemicals have a definite place in wild oat control on the farm today.

"Chemical Control of Wild Oats", compiled by the Field Crops Branch, tells which crops are tolerant to Avadex and Carbyne, how to use them properly and gives other pertinent information on this subject. The new publication can be obtained from any district agriculturalist's office or from the Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

MIL0

High School Graduation Exercises
Milo High School Commencement was held in the school auditorium on the evening of May 26. Graduates honored were Marlene Anderson, John Monner, Charles Anderson, Dale Phillips, Wallace Anderson, Darrel Northcott, Clifford Beckner, Brian Bittorf and Sheila McCord.

Program was as follows: Grace, Arthur Elliot; the Queen, Toastmaster Clifford Beckner; toast to Home and School, Barry Gore; response, Lawrence Smith; toast to staff, Dale Phillips; response, Steven Fluter, vice-president; solo, Mrs. Lawrence Smith; toast to parents, Darlene Winch; response, Ivan Winch; toast to Graduates, Principal R. Coglon; response, (valedictorian) Wallace Anderson; summary of year's sporting events, Brian Bittorf.

School pins were presented to the graduates by Student's Union President Ron Fernley. Corsages were presented by Mrs. Eva Coglon and Mrs. Aleda Fluter.

As guest speaker, Arn Olsen, Calgary TV personality, gave an inspiring address. His theme evolved about the art of communication — as to how vital it was to various groups in the walk of life — actors, doctors, teachers, ministers, and even comedians would be handicapped without the ability to communicate.

Mr. Olsen also gave a critical analysis of the present picture of television, "At present there is too much tripe on television that we could do without," but he feels that the opportunities of television in education are boundless. He went on to explain the importance of advertising, both in industry and in our society. It is essential, he said, to keep commodities at a low price, for the larger the quantity sold, the cheaper they are to the customer. All in all, Mr. Olsen has a practical view of current issues and he was applauded for his direct approach.

Following the banquet catered to by Milo Home and School Association, music was supplied by Tracy's Orchestra, Hussar for the dance.

"Little Women"
A good crowd was in attendance for the Drama 10's presentation of Arthur Jearue's play, "Little Women," based on the immortal story by Louisa M. Alcott. This was held Saturday evening in the Milo School Auditorium.

Cast of characters were as follows: Meg, the eldest, Carol Black; Jo, the playwright, Marilyn Durs-ton; Beth, the youngest, Judith Willard; Amy, the artist, Wendy Godkin; Mrs. March, their mother, Sheila McCord; Mr. March, their father, Alvin Winch; Aunt March, their aunt, Susan Hermann; Hannah Mullet, the cook, Karen Beckner; Mr. Lawrence, a wealthy friend, Gary Bertrand; Laurie, his grandson, Walter Voors; John Brook, Laurie's teacher, Robert Scott; Professor Bhaer, Charles Klemle; four girls, Kathleen Beechman, Dine Marks, Rose Sharp, Norma Monner.

Make-up and Costumes, Mrs. Lucille Deitz, Mrs. June Beckner, Sylvia Will, Mrs. I. Sukut and Darlene Winch.

Not Alone In Our Troubles

Vulcan has its water troubles — both in the quality and quantity of that very essential stuff — but quantity-wise at least we have lots of company. With some communities it's a matter of not enough water; with others the problem is in overworked distribution systems, such as at Calgary, which is situated at the confluence of two rivers but already considering water rationing this summer.

Nanton, which pipes "the best water in the world" from a spring in the foothills, has now prohibited car washing and all watering of lawns and gardens until further notice.

Vulcan's town council, faced with a major expenditure to pipe water in from somewhere, is approaching a decision very cautiously and has been promised the help of two top provincial government experts in deciding the best course to follow.

It is generally conceded that whatever source of water is used, the supply must be sufficient to serve a town of twice Vulcan's population before the expense of laying a pipeline is justified. The airport wells are the closest, but there is still some doubt of their capacity over a prolonged period of pumping. Lake McGregor is the nearest major body of water, but the distance of about 20 miles would mean an expenditure of possibly three-quarters of a million dollars for pipeline, pumping stations and reservoir. Another suggestion that may be investigated is that the flow be increased in the Little Bow River (13 miles west) and water taken from that stream. The extra water would have to come from the Highwood River, and it is understood that this would not be a major problem although water from the Highwood has not been diverted into the Little Bow for some years.

An ample supply of good water is essential if Vulcan is to continue to grow. This fact is being faced and indications are that positive action to solve the problem will be taken this year.

Letters to the Editor

456 W. Pine Ave., Montreal 18, P.Q.

22 May, 1961
To the Editor of The Advocate,
Dear Editor,

Although I have moved away from Vulcan I still consider myself a Vulcanite and am still interested in the activities of the town.

Frankly the letter from the "dog-hater" left me rather disgusted. The letter upon reading seemed petty and short-sighted plus the fact the writer didn't have the courage of his convictions to sign his name. People with dog phobias also write such articles but they have an instilled emotional problem.

Would the writer of the letter in question please remove his sunglasses, look over his yard fence, put on his civic-minded hat and exercise his energy and vocabulary in some constructive activity? The affairs of this town affect all of us but we expect the burden of administration to fall completely on the Town Council alone. Whose town is this anyway?

I do not pretend to offer solutions to the civic problems I am presenting. That is beyond one individual's scope, but as a town let's investigate some of the many and existing stumbling blocks.

1. Why do over half the high school students attending Vulcan have to spend 10 to 12 hours a week being vanned into school? Why aren't teachers interested enough to want to teach in the county? Does the fault lie with the students, the parents, the teaching facilities of the schools, or the educational administration of the county? Some of the qualities of an effective teacher are to know what to teach, how to teach, and how to make demands of the student mind so he has the desire to learn and respect for his teacher. Do all the students have this willingness to learn? Do all the teachers have this respect? Why not? If teachers with these qualities do come to Vulcan why don't more of them stay longer than one or two years? This bears extensive investigation.

2. At one time there was a town playground for the children consisting of swings, teeter-totters, merry-go-round, etc. Now with the child population so increased, why don't we still warrant one? This would provide a place for children and their dogs to play in lieu of the streets and lanes.

3. In approximately 1946 the swimming pool was built for the town. The Lions Club have done a wonderful job and are to be congratulated but remember they are also limited in time and funds. It's about time we the townspeople lent a hand. Nothing is so good it can't be improved. The wading pool and change-rooms last year left much to be desired. Can't more financial aid be received to change or improve the existing swimming pool?

4. There doesn't seem to be much use in providing more hospital beds and nursing facilities if nurses and nursing auxiliary personnel cannot be employed to staff them. The local hospital now is finding this a serious problem. Why can't the hospital get and keep nursing personnel? Is it the living conditions, the working conditions, or the lack of facilities to occupy off-duty time?

I would like to thank the Advocate for the opportunity to express my views and for the opportunity to keep in touch with Vulcan's growth through the media of its excellent news coverage.

Yours truly,

P. Robertson

Box 41, Arrowwood, Alta.

May 26, 1961.

To the Editor of The Advocate,
Dear Editor,

Again it gives me great pleasure to have the privilege of writing to your paper. On behalf of the Farm Union people in this district, I would like to take this opportunity of thanking you and your staff for the good coverage of the farm movement events, in times past. It is a great help to farmers to have a paper such as yours.

Without farm organizations, the farmers would have no unified voice through which they may speak. United we stand, and divided we fall. It is by the constant effort on the part of members, that such organizations as the F.U.A. can be maintained.

For most of us, the opportunity to participate in democratic purposes and processes is not on Parliament Hill in Ottawa, but where we are, in our own communities and districts.

A clearing house for local problems and resolution, is the District 12 Convention to be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall in Claresholm on June 15. This year our F.U.A. and F.W.U.A. and Junior provincial presidents will be our guest speakers. The District Board hopes there will be time for all resolutions to be discussed.

If the farmers feel that the Agricultural Industry has any problems, it would be well for them to attend their own conventions, and take part in the discussions. The farm movement, like a democracy can survive only by its merits, and its strength lies in recognizing and correcting its imperfections.

Yours truly,

Mrs. F. H. House

F.W.U.A. Director, Dist. 12

4-H Club Notes

Berrywater 4-H Calf Club—

The regular meeting of the Berrywater 4-H Calf Club was held at the Berrywater school, May 10. After the repeating of the 4-H pledge by the members, the regular business meeting commenced. A motion was made that Berrywater organize a softball team and challenge the other 4-H clubs to a ball tournament. The tournament will be held in Milo on June 3. Berrywater will also enter a float in the parades at Milo, Vulcan and Champion. The remaining business was then taken care of.

On Monday, May 22, the 4-H Clubs within the County of Vulcan participated in a judging competition at the McMorris farm, west of Queenstown. The members judged three classes of Aberdeen-Angus and then the judge, Mr. Shaw placed them in order. The three classes were yearling bulls, yearling heifers and two-year-old heifers. Mr. Shaw also gave a very interesting talk on judging yearling bulls. The district agriculturist, Clarence Roth, presented the members with a quiz.

How To Get The Best Out Of Your Car

Ways to get the best out of your car have been put forward by automobile engineers. Here are some of their suggestions.

Don't make a habit of pumping the accelerator, especially when starting in the morning. Pumping causes waste of gas and vital lubricant to be washed from the cylinder walls. Over a period of time, absence of lubricant causes scuffing, scoring and other types of premature cylinder wear.

Don't accelerate rapidly or drive at high speeds until you have gone at least five miles at moderate speed. Most people believe that the car is in perfect running form when the water temperature gauge registers normal, or about 180 degrees F. They're wrong. A car does not reach top operational efficiency until the oil temperatures are elevated. If the outside temperature is 32 degrees F (freezing), ideal lubricant temperature is not reached until you have driven about eight miles. No matter how much above freezing the outside temperature is, you still should drive your car five miles at moderate speeds (25-30 mph) to warm it up.

Don't idle your car to warm it up; drive it. A common misconception is that idling is good for your motor. The truth is that idling wastes gas and promotes sludge. Your car will warm faster if you drive it (between 20 and 30 mph) for a few miles. If your car stalls when still cold, it probably needs servicing. One exception: on high humidity days you are likely to stall your car until it is thoroughly warmed up and moisture is evaporated.

Don't drive short distances repeatedly. The suburban habit of repeated short hops to the supermarket produces premature wear and tear on the car. For every gallon of gas used in short hauls, a gallon of potentially corrosive water is produced in the car's system.

When you turn off the engine after only three or four miles of driving, this corrosive fluid accumulates, especially in the exhaust system. It can eat holes in the muffler, etc bearing and cause damage to exhaust and tail pipes.

On longer hauls, the destructive fluid either evaporates or is blown off in steam.

The characteristic dribble of water from tail pipes in the morning is really corrosive fluid that has been working overnight on those pipes.

The largest community pasture yet developed by the P.F.R.A. is located at Val Marie in South-western Saskatchewan. It consists of 110,000 acres, and carried 7,731 head of livestock during the fiscal year 1959-60.

Birthday Club Meeting

On Thursday afternoon, May 11, the Birthday Club met at the home of Mrs. Elmer Hamm with 18 members and two visitors present. The meeting opened by singing, "Blue Skies." As the roll call was called each member presented

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear, the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.

One thing have I desired of the Lord, That will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple.

For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall set me upon a rock.

—Psalms 27:1-5 advt. —A.C.F.

Champion

During the past two weeks two dogs have been poisoned in Champion. The first left several puppies whimpering for food. The second was a family pet. These dogs seemed to be harmless and if they had annoyed anyone, there are methods of dealing with dogs without resorting to the use of poison. However these two dogs were probably the innocent victims of someone seeking vengeance on other dogs; the person who left the poisoned food should have thought of the small children who might have picked it up. Nevertheless, two dogs died in agony, two families lost beloved pets, puppies lost their mother, and lastly someone surely lost his self respect.

CAPITALIZED AT $5,000,000.00

SUITE 3, LORICK BUILDING
CORNER OF 124th ST. AND 107th AVE.
EDMONTON, ALBERTA

A Message From The Directors:

You are cordially invited to join with us in the ownership of a new Acceptance Company and to participate in what we believe will be a sound and profitable business venture.

The ever increasing volume of business activity in Alberta will require added sources of consumer credit. In the past, large installment sales finance companies have grown and prospered on what has been proven to be an extremely profitable field of business endeavor. We believe that these profits should be kept and distributed at home.

We feel that an Alberta company, home owned and knowing the requirements of her people at first hand is better equipped to serve those needs than are other credit companies.

Our purpose will be to make credit available to Alberta farmers, businessmen and consumers through authorized dealers of financeable merchandise. In doing so, we will be filling an important need in the economic growth and stability of our province. We feel that we can do this through a sound, forward looking acceptance company that will reflect credit to ourselves, and return profits to its investors.

Sincerely
THE DIRECTORS
